

Fully Licensed and Insured

At Elevation Restoration, we pride ourselves on being one of the most fully licensed and insured companies around. We have an ICC code licensed representative available on every job. ICC code licensing is not required by many municipalities, and some counties require NO licensing at all. Many roofers out there have very little knowledge about the overall construction of your home and what's under the roof. This lack of knowledge can result in long term problems for the homeowner if a roof is not installed properly. Quite frankly, we go to many new customer's homes to repair poor work done by contractors who simply don't know what they are doing or who are out to make a fast buck. Please make sure your contractor carries ICC code licensing.

Elevation Restoration carries a large amount of general liability insurance for our job locations. We also carry uninsured motorist insurance coverage on all of our company vehicles. We do this so if there ever is a problem on your job, which is extremely rare, you can rest assured that you as the customer won't have any issues of liability.
